

STATE GIVES G.O.P. 15,000 PLURALITY

New Haven, Nov. 4.—Revision of figures of the ballots cast in yesterday's election does not detract from the importance of the victory which came to the Republicans and which was forecasted by the incomplete returns last night. The Democrats in Connecticut have retained only a vestige of political control of officers both in the state and the counties. Of the few contests in which the Democrats came out on top the most notable one was in New Haven county where County Commissioner James Geddes was beaten out by High Sheriff Hugo after a very close battle in which at one time while the ballots were being counted it looked as if the Republican would win out.

The Republicans carried the United States senatorship by popular vote; the governorship and all the state offices with the lieutenant governorship. They have reversed a Democratic Senate of 21 to 14 Republicans by taking 60 seats, a gain of 16 and have obtained what looks like an old time majority in the lower branch of the general assembly.

Just what margin there will be in the next House is not yet known.

There are ties for Representative in several towns to settle which another election will be held.

The total vote cast yesterday was about 20,000 less than in the presidential election of 1912 but in the opinion of party leaders it was much larger than they had expected.

In 1912 President Wilson had a total of 74,511 votes as compared with 75,882 cast for Governor Baldwin as the Democratic nominee for United States Senator yesterday. While Senator Brandegee polled 38,956 votes as compared with the 68,324 given to Mr. Taft. The slump in the vote was almost entirely in the other four parties which had tickets in the field.

The nominees on both the Republican and Democratic tickets ran uniformly with their fellows on the same ticket, the average Republican majority for state officers being about 15,000—Speaker Morris Webster, of Hartford, for comptroller, was the best vote getter for the Republicans, his plurality running to 13,291, and was offset by that of Judge C. D. Burnes for secretary of state, who had only 12,044 plurality.

The following are revised figures of the various candidates:

THE NEXT HOUSE

The next House of Representatives in the General Assembly will be made up of three times as many Republicans as Democrats. With ties in Tolland and Portland to be voted off, and with a single town missing, the make-up of the body appears to be as follows:

County	Dem.	Rep.	Pro.
Hartford	12	22
New Haven	8	31
New London	9	21
Fairfield	9	25
Litchfield	12	29
Windham	4	18
Middlesex	2	19
Tolland	5	16
Totals	61	191	2

Two ties and one town missing.

The Progressives were elected from Hampton and Pomfret in Windham county.

In 1912, the House stood 126 Democrats, 189 Republicans, & Progressives.

OBITUARY

The many friends of Mabel Thomas, only daughter of William Thomas, formerly well known as a citizen, and builder in this city, will be grieved to learn that her death occurred in England, October 16. Her funeral took place a week later. Burial was in the family tomb, Mabe cemetery, Penryn, England. The deceased was widely known and respected in this city.

Frank Blackney, of Bellairs, Ohio, was killed and his son Frank is dying from wounds received in a quarrel with Frank Long over the division of crops.

VOTE FOR SHERIFFS

Sheriff Vollmer, though defeated by Simeon E. Pease in Fairfield county, ran well ahead of his ticket and lost by 863 votes, whereas Republicans were being elected to other offices by pluralities ranging from 3,090 to 5,000.

Hugo, (D), was elected in New Haven County.

On the face of the returns Frank Turkington has been elected sheriff of Litchfield county, by a narrow margin but a question has arisen whether or not ballots cast by the Progressives should all be counted for Sheriff Middlebrooks. A revision of the vote in the Litchfield county towns this morning appears to show that Turkington, (R), had 6,348 while Middlebrooks had 5,784 on the Democratic ballot with 622 added by Progressives making his total 6,407 or 28 behind Turkington. The claim is made by the present sheriff that there are more Progressive votes to be counted in his column which may change the result. Middlebrooks was endorsed by the Progressives.

The shrievalty votes were as follows:
